"BEAUTIFUL DISRUPTION"

By: Deon McKinley '21

Poetry is when an emotion has found its thought and
the thought has found words.

- Robert Frost

I hurdle 187s and sinister menaces/
control sinister from within, to eliminate your presence/
This tha kitchen that's hell bent/
And this the executive Michelin/

I articulate that I'll chop you/ Bite down I might ch-ch-ch-chop you/
you not close to me stop it, Go back home and keep jottin/ Yous a peasant, my pedigree's straight I yous a false spoken reverend/ So never speak up with manners, just no presence/
My presence, a present peasant/

(HAY HAAAY HAY)

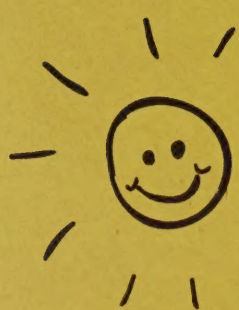

This a beautiful disruption, where all the choruses come in/
And drug dealers come alive/ Y'all have a chance to breathe and farther
But cried out on TV, and called it columbine/ Mamba Stings enflamed a Time Flies, When I rhyme, and I shine, and find an eye, and kill em all, t
mine/
Cause all pedestrians will come for my spine/
And all y'all realize y'all can't before I can kill mine/

"WOAH, AMEN, WOAH, HAY "

We needed to take the necessary measures...

to adapt, stay
positive, and remember our supportive
community,

Faculty and staff work from home during quarantine

The whole world is experiencing a new normal,
but instead of the coronavirus pandemic separating
us, it has brought families, friends, and the world closer together even at six feet apart.
